Living local

AT CUMMINS

Power to shape tomorrow | cummins.com/careers

Cummins Inc. was founded in 1919 in Columbus, Indiana. Beginning with the partnership between Clessie Cummins and William G. Irwin, Cummins would evolve through the leadership of Irwin's nephew, J. Irwin Miller, and become the worldwide power technology company we know today. In its 100-year history, Cummins has seen Columbus, and the surrounding areas, grow along with the company.

This Living Local brochure is designed to help introduce readers to the surrounding areas and cities found local to Cummins. Each city introduces their own individual culture, entertainment and ways of life that portray what it means to be living local.

Constructed in 1983, the Cummins Corporate Office Building helped give a modern look to the historic 19th century cereal mill it was built around.

Opened in 2016, the Cummins LiveWell Center has helped bring high quality healthcare closer to all Cummins employees and their dependents with the goal of improving health outcomes for all employees and their families.
