Preparing for a Clinical Career

At Providence St. Peter Hospital (PSPH) and Providence Centralia Hospital (PCH), we are committed to advancing clinical pharmacy services, and our residency programs are a cornerstone in that work. The patient is at the center of everything we do; it's a philosophy Providence supports across the organization. Through our PGY1 Pharmacy Residency, residents have the opportunity to develop the skills and experience necessary to succeed in a clinical practice setting.

Our Residency Vision Statement

We are committed to the growth and development of residents as they transition from student to clinical pharmacist.

Residents who complete our program are competent, compassionate, resilient professionals who are trusted by the healthcare team.

They are confident in advocating for best practice utilizing clinical knowledge and evidence-based medicine. They contribute to excellence as lifelong learners and educators with an outward focus.

Pharmacy Residency Program Objectives

Resident will demonstrate competencies in the following core areas: Direct Patient Care (Acute and Ambulatory settings) and Practice Management (Leadership).

The resident will be able to:

- Work independently in all areas assigned
- Work effectively with pharmacy team members
- Develop the ability to supervise or coordinate work for others

Residents will have opportunities to:

- Educate students, pharmacists, healthcare professionals
- Lead Quality Improvement projects
- Develop and strengthen analysis and presentation skills

Each pharmacy resident will mature in a professional role, be proactive and professional in interacting with other staff and disciplines and develop an awareness of local and national pharmacy issues.

Residency Practice Sites

Providence St. Peter Hospital is a 390-bed, not-for-profit regional teaching hospital founded by the Sisters of Providence in 1887. Located in Olympia, the state capital, Providence St. Peter Hospital offers comprehensive medical, surgical and behavioral health services. As the largest medical center in the five-county area of Southwest Washington, it serves as a regional referral center.

Providence Centralia Hospital is a 127-bed, not-for-profit hospital providing emergency, diagnostic, cancer, birthing and surgical services. The hospital also specializes in knee and hip replacements.

Pharmacy Services provides comprehensive 24-hour acute care services. In addition, we provide ambulatory pharmacy services to the surrounding communities, focused on chronic disease and anticoagulation management including but not limited to palliative care, oncology, rheumatology, and Hepatitis C treatment.
